Sewer Charge Goes Up

In all probability residents of this area will pay an increased sewer service charge after the first of the year. The directors of Sanitation District 4, which covers Campbell, Saratoga, Los Gatos and Cambrian Park areas, met last night to consider the hike in fees.

It is estimated that the fee, now 40 cents monthly for single-family residences, will be hiked to $1.10. Following the raise by the directors of the Sanitation District, the Campbell City Council is expected to follow suit and raise the rates of the Campbell Sanitary District to the same figure.

The City of Campbell took over the old Campbell Sanitary District when the city was incorporated but the district is administered and maintained by Sanitation District No. 4 under a contract with the City.

Actually all that remains of the old Sanitary District are the boundaries on the map, for all the services are now tied in with District 4.

Steve Goodman, manager of District 4, said that the raise in rates was chiefly due to the sewage treatment now in effect at the San Jose outfall. The district must pay about $45,000 annually to use the new San Jose sewage treatment plant. This charge went into effect on November 1.

Goodman also said that the district has been operating on a deficit for some time, making up the difference from the general taxes levied. He said that a number of expansion projects are also planned to be paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis during the current year.

Other sanitation districts in the county have charged higher rates than District 4 for some time, it was pointed out. The manager explained that the old term for the charge, "sewer rental fees" often gave the wroong impression to the users who had already paid for their sewers. Goodman emphasized that the charge is a maintenance and service charge and henceforth will probably be known as a "sewer service charge" rather than a rental fee.

But whatever the name, the cost will still go up.

LILLINGSTON HEADS RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Campbell's Howard Lillingston was chosen to head the local phase of a Red Cross campaign to collect $8689 in the San Jose area to send supples to war-torn Hungary, William S. Powell, San Jose Chapter American Red Cross chairman, announced yesterday.

The drive will correspond with a national campaign to collect five million dollars to aid more than 8500 Hungarian refugees.

School Board Plans Junior Citizens Day

Plans for Camden and Campbell High Schools "Junior Citizens Day" slated for December 11 were discussed at the Campbell High School District Board meeting last Thursday.

According to Laurance Hill, district superintendent, Camden High School students will sit in on a board meeting on the 11th as part of the program for the day.

Much of the Board meeting was taken up by a report by Ken Robison, director of recreation, concerning summer recreational activities. He brought out the possibility of a day camp program. and discussed the use of the proposed Camden high swimming pool

Sewer Fee Hike, Winchester Plan Face City Council

Campbell's City Council will probably act to raise the sewer service charge for the Campbell Sanitary District at next Monday's meeting.

At the same meeting a report is expected from the city engineer on the economic feasibility of taking property off only one side on Winchester Road.

At its last meeting the Council held up the adoption of the Winchester plan-line until more information was received.

Several residents of Winchester Road were present at the meeting to protest that if property was taken off both sides equally as the plan-line calls for, front yards would be below the 25-foot minimum requirement.

Present at the meeting were E. R. Kennedy, J. M. Dahl, Bert Simmons, Mrs. Lathrop who told the Council they thought the land should come off both sides but the 25-yard setback should be maintained.

At its last meeting also the Council did not concur in the action of the Planning Commission to zone the Calciccia property heavy commercial. By resolution the Council recommended to the Planning Commission that the property be zoned C-1-S.

In other actions the Council:

(1) Discussed the possibility of a million dollar bond issue for a public works program

(2) Discussed the possibility of a special census as a means of bringing more gas tax money for streets. It was estimated that the City might derive another $10,000 in gas taxes and the cost of the census would be only $2500.

(3) Authorized the expenditure of $8800 for installation of a storm sewer under the proposed Route 5 freeway at David Ave.

(4) Approved light industrial zoning for a 60-acre annexation at the southern city limits.

(5) Instructed the city attorney to prepare petitions to be used in calling an inhabited annexation election in the Campbell Manor area.

(6) Heard that the County Boundaries Commission had approved Campbell annexations 1956-7 and 1956-6 (Campbell Manor and the Cascade Research Inc. property).

Please . . .

Mute that Toot!

Does the City give a hoot about a toot?

"What in the name of all that is good and holy does the City of Campbell mean by allowing the hundreds of residents to be tortured by Southern Pacific engine whistles and bells at any time of day or night and apparently at the fancy and whim of any sadistic engineer aboard, since there is no system to the racket",

That's the way D. D. Wood, 408 Whitehall St., Campbell, began his letter of protest to the City Council last week protesting the incessant noise made by the train whistles as they pass through Campbell.

The Council referred the letter to Joe Bonacina, city attorney, for reply after he had checked the state laws that require trains to sound their whistles when approaching crossings.

But no one ventured an opinion as to whether under any circumstances the S. P. would mute their toot or gave a hoot in the first place.

Livingston to Attend Junior Chamber Council

Charles "Red" Livingston, president of the Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce, will attend a district four California Junior Chamber of Commerce presidents council December 5 at the Villa Felice in San Jose.

State Junior Chamber President Izzy Gould will speak at the event. District four includes towns from Sunnyvale to Hollister and Monterey.

At the beginning of this month Livingston attended a meeting of junior chamber officials in Santa Barbara.

New Post Office Site May Affect 'Face-Lift'

Where the Campbell post office is going to light when its present lease expires to a certain extent is affecting the current face-lift operation of the downtown business section.

This was evident this week as "operation face-lift" continued to roll although a number of adjustments in some of the original plans were reported.

One change that affected the overall picture was the announcement made by Lowell Benson of the Campbell Cleaners that his firm had signed a new 10-year lease with John Lyndon for the building next to the post office that the cleaners now occupy.

It had been previously announced that the new store building which is to be built on the corner of Second St. and Campbell by Tony Raffanti would be leased to the Campbell Cleaners.

Both Raffanti and Benson announced that their lease arrangement had been cancelled.

The renewal of the Campbell Cleaners lease on its present location started afresh the various rumors of where the post office would locate when its lease expires on its present quarters. Postal authorities had revealed that twice their present space is now needed and their present lease runs until next May. Local obseorvers of the scene fetl that when the Campbell Cleaners moved out the post office would take over that building also.

But with the signing of the new 10-year lease by Benson, this eliminates this possibility.

It is understood that postal officials have been investibating a number of other locations in town and may make an announcement within a short time as to what site is favored.

One location that has been given favorable consideration is on N. Central near Grant, a short distance from the new City Hall. Other sites under scrutiny, it is understood, include the old Methodist Church property on Campbell Ave., and several other spots on Campbell Ave. A plot at Winchester and Latimer has also been considered, it has been reported.

The postal department will not buy or build itself but will lease a building built to their specifications from the owner.

In the meantime on other sections of the face-lift front, work was progressing rapidly on the remodeling of the Nelson Bros. building which will be leased to Norman Corvello of the Campbell Hardware. Corvello's present quarters, owned by Carl Field, have been condemned and will be torn down shortly after the first of the year.

Work was also progressing on Verle Girzzle's jewelry store. The front of the store is being completely changed and the space formerly occupied by Orie Grizzle's barber shop has also been taken over.

Another future change on the business front was reported. With the announcement that the building occupied by Jimmy DiMaria's shoe repair shop has been condemned and must also come down, another change in the downtown business front appear in the offing. This building is located next to the stores being built and remodeled by William Lloyd.

13-Year-Olds Try Armed Robbery

Two 13-year old Campbell Grammar School boys were apprehended by Campbell Police yesterdy and charged with using a four-and-one-half-inch switch-blade knife to obtain money from children coming home from Cherry Lane School.

The knife was sharpened on both edges, and is classified as a deadly weapon. According to Campbell Police, the boys admitted to using the weapon as a threat in an attempt to get money on different occasions from seven children on their way home from school.

Despite the knife, however, the boys failed to get any money because the children from the kindergarten to sixth grade Cherry Cherry Lane School didn't have any.

School officials cooperated with the police in apprehending the youths. They were subsequently turned over to the Campbell Youth Guidance Committee.

Camden High Junior Class Presents First Play in School's History

The dramatic efforts of Camden High School's first junior class may be seen when "Night Must Fall" opens in Camden's cafetroium Thursday and Friday nights at 8:00.

In the film version of this play, made about ten years ago, Robert Montgomery starred as Danny: On stage both tomorrow and Friday nights and playing the role of this bellboy, Danny, will be Brad Freger.

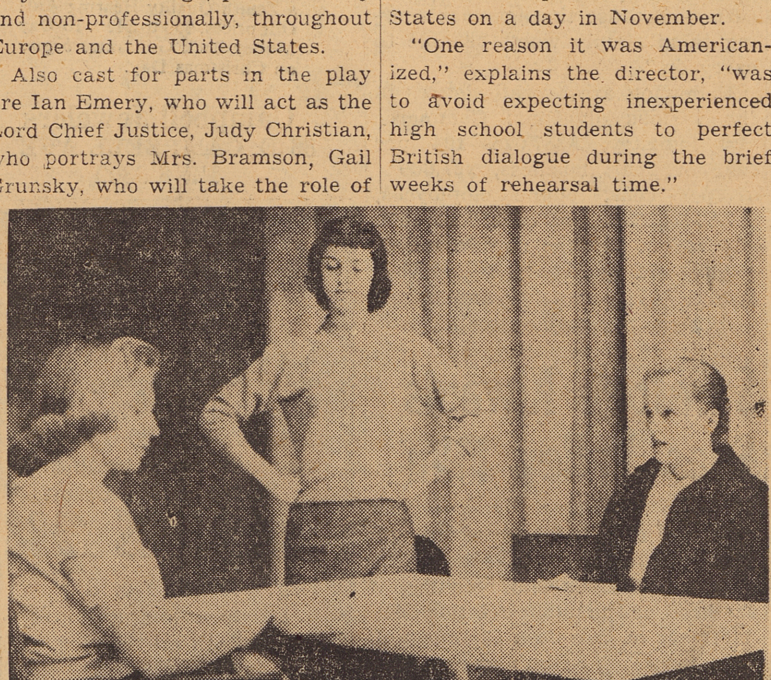
"Night Must Fall," a three-act play by Emlyn Williams, has played on the stage, professionally and non-professionally, throughout Europe and the United States.

Also cast for parts in the play are Ian Emery, who will act as the Lord Chief Justice, Judy Christian, who portrays Mrs. Bramson, Gail Grunsky, who will take the role of Olivia, Bob Waterbury, who will play as Hubert; Donna Fammatre will be the nurse and Nancy Miller will act as Mrs. Terrence, while the parts of Dora and Inspector Belsize will be taken by Gayle Reinigger and Dennis Collins respectively.

The directors of the play are Loy Elser, dramatic director, and Coleman Jones, technical director.

Although "Night Must Fall" originally was written to take place near London, England, the setting has been Americanized and the first scene opens in the United States on a day in November.

"One reason it was Americanized," explains the director, "was to avoid expecting inexperienced high school students to perfect British dialogue during the brief weeks of rehearsal time."



IN THE FIRST PLAY AT CAMDEN HIGH . . . Three Camden High students rehearse their parts for the first junior play ever produced at Camden High. The play, "Night Must Fall", will be presented in the Cafetorium at the school tonight and tomorrow night. Pictured are, Judy Christian (left) as the wheelchair invalid, Mrs. Bramson; Nancy Miller (standing) as Mrs. Terrence and Gail Grunsky as Olivia.

A Pretty Sure Thing

Want to Bet?

Chances are pretty good that one application for a use and zone variance permit that comes before the Planning Commission on December 13 at a public hearing will gain approval without too much trouble.

On that date, the City of Campbell is asking the City of Campbell's Planning Commission for approval to operate a city hall at 75 N. Central Ave. A use permit is necessary for any public building.

The betting down at the city hall and on the street (and anywhere else) is that the application will be approved. And there are no takers.

No one, however, dares to think of what might happen should the City Planners deny the City Fathers their request.

Parkway School

Allocations Board Okays Site Cost

The State Allocations Board gave its approval this week to the Campbell Union Elementary School District's bid for additional funds to the tune of $81,960 to buy the site for the proposed Parkway School, William C. Henley, district Superintendent announced yesterday.

The money originally allocated for the site was $94,480. However, the Superior Court told the District late last October that it must pay the owner of the condemned property $173,500.

The owner's appraisers had set a maximum of $208,200 and a minimum of $173,500 on the site. School District appraisers set a high of 109,500, and a low of $105,000. The owner claimed that the land had commercial value because of the zoning of nearby land for commercial purposes.

The site is located between Pruneridge Ave and the Stevens Creek Road. It is a 17-acre site improved with a prune orchard, and is owned by Saratoga resident Mrs. Anna Perlinda.

Superintendent Henley, Business Manager, C. E. Bradley and trustees Ed A. Merrill and John Dixon journeyed down to Sacramento to the Allocations Board meeting. "It took a lot of talking to get them to approve," Henley said.

The Parkway School is expected to be completed by September of next year. It will handle grades from kindergarten to sixth, and will consist of 19 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a multi-purpose room and administration offices.

The District expects only to use about 10 acres of the 17 for the school. Thus, according to Bradley, the cost will probably be cut when the County purchases a strip of land through the property for the proposed San Tomas Parkway.

Concerning another of the District's sites, the Board of Allocations delayed its approval due to a change in boundaries made by the District on the site after it received preliminary approval from the Board.

Henley said that apparently certification of the change did not get into the hands of the Board until after it was made. The District is consulting legal advice on the matter.

If approval is delayed, Henley reported, it will result in the site's purchase being dependent on the State aid and bonds to be voted on next February 5. At that time the Elementary School District will hold a joint election with the Campbell High School District which involves a combined total of more than $16 million for the two district's slated school building program.

Three Campbell boys, two aged 13 and one 12, were turned over to the local Youth Guidance Committee last week because they picked the wrong car to hit with clods of dirt. It all happened when John Zeck, 640 Hazelwood Ave., reported to the sheriffs office that three juveniles were throwing rocks at passing cars in the vicinity of Virginia Ave. and Century Drive.

Sure enough when a sheriff's car started patrolling the scene it was struck by a clod. Deputies gave chase and collared the three youngsters who were turned over to the city police because they were apprehended within the city limits.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan announced this week that any one interested in doing janitorial work at the new city hall (which is expected to be completed by December 17) can pick up application blanks at her office. It is contemplated that the custodial work will be only on a part-time basis at the start. W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, will supervise the details of the job.

City Planners are scheduled to appoint a special committee at their December 6 meeting to handle violations of front yard minimum requirements resulting from future street widening. The Commission did not meet on November 15 because of a lack of items for the agenda. This will not be the case, however, at the December 6 meeting at which a number of public hearings have already been scheduled.

Because many local residents have not complied with the new house renumbering ordinance, city officials may be forced to issue citations for volations of the ordinance in order to emphasize the importance of having the correct numbers on the house. They point out that it is for the benefit of the residents that the right number be up in case of a fire and for the prompt delivery of mail.

Farnham Grammar School Opens; 646 Children Enrolled

The Cambrian Elementary School District's fourth school, Farnham, opened November 19, and already has an enrollment of 646 children, according to Delos M. Bagby, district superintendent.

The school was designed by the firm of Evans and Lincoln. It is of the qual court construction type, and has a large multi-use room separating the two courts. It occupies a 10-acre site on Woodard Ave. and handles grades from kindergarten through sixth.

The west quad houses the administration, kindergarten and primary grades. The east quad contains grades three through six. Carl N. Swenson was the general contractor.

The school has extensive kitchen facilities, according to Bagby. It is already feeding more than 280 children each day.

Principal of the new school is Al Vatuone, formerly vice-principal at Steindorf School. He is a San Jose resident.

Appointed vice-principal at the new school was Fay Schoonover, who also doubles as one of two fourth grade teachers.

Mrs. Muriel Johnson is the school's secretary. Nurse and health educator is Mrs. Zee Romer.

The teaching staff includes Mrs. Wre Richards and Loyce Swengel, kindergarten; Mrs. Janet Haynes, Mrs. Gladys Nimerick and Mrs. Jennie Colson, first grade; Mrs. Mickey Elliott, JoAnn Scaletta and Mrs. Betty Anderson, second grade; Phyllis Wythe, Jan Kahne and Ann Ingoldsby, third grade; Mrs. Schoonover and Mrs. Sally Smythe, fourth grade; Albert Handley and Mrs. Barbara Patrick, fifth grade; and Mrs. Violet Pomeroy and Robert Meek, sixth grade.

The custodial staff is made up of Bob Bruce and Roy Kawanuchi. Sam Marion is gardener.

Mrs. Robert Ford and Mrs. Jane Bowman serve as cooks and bakers in the cafeteria.

The school was named after Martin H. Farnham, a former district trustee for 11 years. He is now living in Oregon, where he is engaged in farming. Farnham's son, Jack is presently serving on the school board.

Persons interested in seeing the school are invited by Principal Vatuone to come out and look around any time during the school day.

Lions Commended For 'Blind Work'

Campbell Lions Club was commended for their outstanding activities, including their work with the blind in this area, by Lions Club district governor, Leonard Bacci, who was a guest at last Tuesday's meeting. Bacci also reported that the local group has outstanding growth and attendance records.

Other items reported on by the district governor were the three conventions scheduled for 1957. The international Lions Club convention will be held in San Francisco some time in June; the California-Nevada convention in San Jose during January, and the northern California convention to be held at Hoberg's in May.

Other dignitaries present were David Tripiano, deputy district governor from Mountain View, and John Smart, zone chairman, from Los Gatos.

Thayer Lyons presided at the business meeting when it was announced that the December 11 meeting will be a joint meeting with Beverly-Burbank Lions Club to be held at Campbell Country Woman's Club.

Adult Basketball Season to Begin

The Campbell Adult Basketball League is scheduled to begin play December 11, the Campbell recreation department announced yesterday. Work is progressing on the organizing of the 15-man squads. The season will be divided into halves,and the league winner will receive a trophy at the end of the season.

Already organized teams wishing to enter the league, or individuals wanting to participate, may do so by contacting team managers in the Campbell Recreation Department, or by seeing Louis Marotti at Campbell High School.

Persons who are not already members of a team will be incorporated into one. Teams are organized newly each year. Last year the league contained six teams.

While teams are being organized, practice sessions are continuing at Campbell High School Gymnasium. The next one is scheduled for Tuesday, December 4, from 7 to 10 pm.

Something New Is Added

Campbell Residents Can Now Obtain Time of Day by Dialing RO 7-8900

ROchester 7-8900 is the number to dial for the time of day.

The new time of day number went into effect earlier this month, and now instead of an operator giving the time, it's an automatic answering device that does the job.

The voice you hear after dialing ROchester 7-8900 will be a tape recording wound on to a box of electronic switches and relays called an Audichron.

The timekeeper is manufactured in Atlanta, Georgia, and the voice comes with it. Telephone people just call her "Audie." Her real name though is Mrs. Mary Moore.

The Audichron isn't even in Campbell It is kept at the Pacific Telephone office in San Francisco and gives the time, via a special long distance circuit, to almost everyone who asks from Oregon to Bakersfield. The company figures it is easier that way than to supply an Audichron to each exchange.

A few exchanges in Northern California, most of them without dial service, still depend on local operators for the time, however.

But a person here who dials ROchester 7-8900 is cut in on the time circuit, and gets the time from Audie in San Francisco.

Actually, there are two audichrons in San Francisco. One broadcasts the time. The other stands by on an emergency basis should the first break down.

The Audichron went to work for Pacific Telephone in 1948. That's about 20 years after the company first began giving the time of day as a public service.

At the beginning, the operators themselves gave out the time, getting it from a clock near their switchboard. Later, special time girls answered the requests.

A special light used to tell the girls when someone had asked for the time. They couldn't hear the actual request themselves.

People kept saying thank you, anyway. They still do, even though they get the time from a machine.

And at Christmas, the telephone company says it gets an occasional greeting card addressed to "the girl who gives the time."

Red Feather Drive In Campbell Lags, Says Lillingston

Campbell is lagging far behind the rest of the Santa Clara County Communities in its United Red Feather campaign contributions, with only 73 per cent of its $10,000 goal collected, Howard Lillingston, Campbell campaign chairman, announced this week.

Campbell's total is $7347. Breakdown on the contributions is as follows: Residential, $3307, 78 per cent of the division's goal; business, $1398, 69 per cent; professional, $170, 56 per cent; commerce and industry, $4850, 40 per cent; and schools, which have adopted the United Givers payroll deduction plan, $1991, 99 per cent of goal. Unreported is the public employees division. The United Givers fund supports such organizations as the Red Cross, U.S.O., Cancer Society and Heart Fund. Campbell school employees have donated a total of $2443 to this fund.

Give The United Way

Lillingston reported that Santa Clara, Milpitas and Cupertino have met and surpassed their goals. Los Gatos has callected 76 per cent of its goal. The over-all area-wide campaign figure is now 95 per cent, or $456,193 of the $478,966 overall goal.

He also pointed out that original overall budget requests to the Community Welfare Council by the 30 agencies benefitted by Red Feather funds were $143,000 more than the final campaign goal allocated.

"Unless we meet our goals," Lillingston declared, "the people needing help in this area . . . will suffer—because the agencies serving them simply won't be able to carry on."

Following are overall figures in the various divisions: Commerce and industry, $257,925—104 per cent of goal; business, $21,600—67 per cent; public employees, $17,804—100 per cent; schools, $22,661—85 per cent; professional, $13,222—71 per cent; residential, $23,115—77 per cent; and rural, $2,149—35 per cent of goal.

Rotarians Join Optometrists in Safety Campaign

Details of the fifth annual high school poster and essay contest on "Safer Driving Through Better Vision—'Help Save Lives' ", Co-sponsored by Campbell Rotary and Santa Clara County Optometric Society at Campbell High School, have been announced by Dr. Robert R. Jasmine, contest chairman.

Purpose of the contest, which is being conducted state-wide by the National Safety Council and Vision Conservation Institute, Inc., of Los Angeles, is to help make high school students more aware of the importance of good vision in preventing traffic accidents, the nation's number one killer and crippler, Dr. Jasmine explains.

The winner in both the poster and essay divisions at Campbell will receive a gold cup, and then be automatically entered in county-wide competition for additional prizes, and in the state-wide contest. The first three winners in the latter competitiion will have their travel expenses to San Diego paid for themselves, parents and school instructors. The VCI Awards Banquet for the state winners will be held in February in San Diego.

Campbell contest closes December 7. Teachers who have not yet received entry blanks or contest information are asked to contact Dr. Jasmine at FRanklin 8-4661.

State Employment Hits Top October Level on Record

Employment for the month of October in California was at the highest level on record for that month, and unemployment fell to its lowest level since World War II, two State agencies announced this week.

Ernest B. Webb, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, reported that civilian employment in California totaled 5,709,000 in October. This was down one per cent from the all-time high established in September.

It was pointed out by Webb that California accounted for better than one fourth of the nation's employment gain of one million during the past 12 months.

H. W. Stewart, director of the Department of Employment, reported that unemployment declined by 9000 from September, to an October total of 102,000. The October count was 9000 below a year ago, and was the lowest since the labor shortage days of World War II.

The September drop in both employment and unemployment was seasonal and marked the withdrawal of some workers who were in the labor force during the harvest and food processing seasons.

Dunn-Coombs Exchange Vows In New Church

Dr. Corwin H. Olds, pastor of Campbell Congregational Church, celebrated his first nuptial ceremony in the new church on West Campbell Ave. on November 18, when Miss Constance Bette Coombs became the bride of Glenwood Peter Dunn in double ring rites.

"Walk Hand in Hand With Me" and "O Promise Me" was heard with Miss Bonnie Daley as soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Noble Hancock.

When she came down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white French crepe gown fashioned with hand tucking the entire length of the torso, from the bodice to the knees, with a floor length gathered flounce, completing the skirt detail. Long, tapered sleeves and an illusion neckline gathered at the neck with rhinestones, completed the dress detail. A double veil, one elbow length and the other finger tip length, bordered with a band of heirloom lace depended from the lace cap worn in her hair. Her cascade bouquet of white carnations was tucked with lilies of the valley and centered with a white orchid.

Briday attendants wore strapless gowns of taffeta made with long, shirred torsos and double circular full length skirts. Each carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Janet Catalone, her sister's matron of honor, wore a lavender gown with lavender bouquet, and her bridesmaids, Mrs. Del Coombs and Miss Linda Wadsworth, wore rose colored gowns and rose colored chrysanthemums. Little Miss Charlotte Coombs, niece of the bride, was her flower girl. Her forest green dress had a ruffled skirt and she carried white flower petals in a white basket.

Jerry C. Kennedy attended the groom as best man, while Del Coombs and Richard Lunn were ushers.

Mrs. Frank A. Coombs chose a blue, jewel trimmed brocade dress for her daughter's wedding, with blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations completing her costume.

The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Roy E. Dunn, chose a dress of rose lace with rose accessories for the ceremony. With it she wore a rose carnation corsage.

White chrysanthemums decorated the church parlors for the reception when the couple cut their four-tiered cake before more than 250 friends and relatives of the couple who gathered there to congratulate the newlyweds.

The couple flew to Grand Rapids, Michigan for their wedding trip, where they will visit the groom's family and friends. Tme bride's going-away ensemble was a wool sheath of green, blue and gold stripes, with a black coat and winter white accessories. With it she wore an orchid corsage. On returning from Michigan, the couple will make their home in Santa Clara.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Coombs of 630 Eldon Drive in Campbell, is a Campbell Union High School graduate and she attended San Jose State College. She was a member of Campbell Bethel No. 174, Job's Daughters. She has a sister, Mrs. Janet Catalone, and a brother, Del Coombs, both of Campbell.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunn of Sparta, Michigan. He graduated from Sparta High School and is presently stationed at Moffett Field with the U. S. Navy.

The top photograph shows "raw" pipe being unloaded from flatcars, one car carrying the bulk of the load and two, fore and aft, protecting the "hangover" About 5,600 lengths of the big pipe are needed for PG&E's project of bringing more natural gas to California. Pumpkin "vases" on each table were filled with chrysanthemums. Turkeys made by fourth grade Brownie troop 61, guarded each vase. Mr. and Mrs. Turkey, made from pumpkins (used as bodies), berries (for wattles), and Chrysanthemums (for the tails), sat on the stage as unique decoration.

Pollution Officials Spot Smog by Air

Bay Aera Air Pollution Control District officials last week took to the air in order to spot the major sources of smog in the six Bay Area counties.

Members of the district's board of directors, the advisory council and press representatives were guests of a commercial air-line on the two-hour flight.

Weather and air conditions were ideal and the officials were able to view many of the more productive smog sources and watch the material collect along the outer fringe of the six-county basin.

Benjamin Linsky, District control officer, reported that only the visible phase of smog was seen. The sources of the invisible irritants that cause eye-smarting and crop damage were not seen by the officials.

Linsky indicated that members of the district and his staff will take to the air frequently in their efforts to reduce smog problems.

Preparations Start On Heart Sunday

The canvassing will be done between the hours of 1 and 3 p.m.

When the Big Flood Came

Of extreme interest to all concerned (and that means just about everybody in the state) is the 126-page, extensively illustrated book, "The Big Flood, California 1955" prepared by the California Disaster Office.

The intent of the book, expertly written by Samuel B. Jackson, is to relate the experience of the 1955-56 flood and how Civil Defense forces met the emergency. It also lists plans and preparations to cope with other disasters in the future.

The first "chapter", "The Disaster and its Challenge" explains that the flood of December, 1955. was the greatest disaster of its kind which had ever occurred in California. It is necessary to go back nearly a century to find any comparable deluge in the state's history, the great winter flood of 1861-62.

It is estimated that 64 persons lost their lives in the flood and the financial loss was staggering, although it may never be possible to express it in an overall statewide total.

The California Division of Water Resources has adopted $200,000,000 as a tentative estimate of "direct flood losses".

This disaster occurred this time a year ago next month and we think the issuance of the book is extremely timely, for many people have now forgotten just how serious the situation was throughout the state.

The book relates that the first news to reach the public about California's record rainstorm was not concerned with the rain itself but with the violent gusts of wind that ushered it in.

In the early evening of Sunday, December 18, the television stations in San Francisco were off the air for periods up to several hours. The gale had played havoc with their transmitters, and this interruption of entertainment was perhaps the first inkling the public had of a serious storm.

But the winds were only the beginning of an all-out assault on roads and bridges which was to reach more than $44,000,000 worth of destruction before it was over.

On Monday, December 19, the signs of the major flood danger began to apear. In Marin County 8.8 inches of rain fell in 24 hours. The Russian River went over its banks. A rampaging creek flooded the streets of San Pablo. Upstate the Feather River was pouring into meadows. The important Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Marin County was under water and by nightfall the first state of emergency had been declared, along the Russian River.

For five straight days the rains came. The weather bureau called the downpour "record-breaking in every respect''. The one main storm, according to the weather bureau, was actually of two weeks duration, from December 15 to 28 inclusive.

The book with its vivid illustrations of the havoc that was wrought throughout the state makes an impact that brings home to all of us the importance of being prepared if a catastrophe of similar nature should strike again.

Although other sections of the state were more severely hit, the serious flooding experienced by Santa Clara Couty has no precedent in this county's history.

The official count of the number of families that were evacuated from their homes for a period of 24 hours or longer in Santa Clara County was 418. However, the number driven out by rising water for a shorter period was very much larger. In Campbell, for example, it is estimated that 200 persons were taken by buses and trucks from their homes. All of whom were able to return quickly to their homes and were not counted as displaced persons.

The end result of the great flood indicates forcefully that our great state is not immune from such disasters. Thus every effort should be made by all agencies to be ready whenever a disaster strikes.

They say that hindsight is always better than firesight. But in the case of the great flood of December 1955 we are convinced that hindsight in this case should be used as a basis for foresight in preparation.

Tempus fugit.

It is hard to believe that this disaster occurred just a year ago. Many things have happened since to overshadow it in our minds.

We don't want it to ever happen again.

But we should never forget that it did.

As most of you are probably aware by now, Campbell phone users can now get the time of day by simply dialing ROchester 7-8900. Pacific Telephone put the new service into effect earlier this month.

—o—

We were very much interested in the news release turned in by the phone company which explains the whole set-up.

When we learned that the new service was installed we immediately tested it by dialing the given number and a pleasant voice gave us the time. We were so pleased that we thanked the voice before we thought.

We learned that it is not at all uncommon and the telephone people say that "the girl who gives the time" is also a recipient of an occasional greeting card at Christmas.

—o—

We think that speaks very well for the manners of people as a whole. We didn't realize that our early training from our parents had really paid off until we began thanking these various answering services even after we had been forewarned that "this is a recording".

—o—

The phone people, incidentally, say the tape recording that gives the time and is wound up in the box containing electric switches and all that sort of stuff is called an "Audichron". It is located in San Francisco and not in Campbell because the company figures it is easier that way than to supply an "audichron" to each exchange. (The voice, by the way, is that of an Atlanta, Georgia, girl.)

We like this idea of being able to get the correct time just by dialing. Although we wear a watch, we find we cannot depend on it all the time. We are forever setting it ahead with the wishful hope that by so doing we will be able to get to places on time. Our idea never works, however.

—o—

All we manage to do is to confuse the situation to such a degree that we are never sure when someone asks us the time whether our watch is correct.

It will be simpler now just to dial the number. Then we can be assured that we are not misleading anyone other than ourself.

—o—

The merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center (Lee Bros., Campbell Drugs, etc.) have long been incensed over the concrete abutments that are placed around the parking lot at the shopping center.

These abutments have damaged more cars than anyone cares to remember.

—o—

Another car (a brand new 1957 Ford) was the latest victim. The car and the concrete came together on Monday and the car, (as has always been the case in the previous incidents) was the loser. The entire side of the shining new car was dented.

But the merchants in the center feel optimistically that the situation will finally be rectified.

—o—

A spectator at the mangling of the '57 Ford this week was none other than Hollis Logue, the architect who designed the buildings and the shopping center.

Logue (who is also a member of the Campbell Planning Commission) is supposedly to have assured the merchants and the customers, who were standing by, that the abutments would be out of there in a week, even if he personally had to take a jack-hammer to them himself.

Our report of the accident did not reveal whether the audience broke into cheers at this statement but, if they didn't we know they must have felt like it.

—o—

These darn abutments, in our opinion, serve no useful purpose whatsoever. We are certain anyone who has had anything to do with them (and there are quite a number) will agree. We understand that the darn things were put there so that light poles could rest on 'em. But no light poles have ever been put on most of them.

Anyway the merchants are pretty aggravated about it and we don't blame 'em. We sincerely hope that Hollis will fix things up.

Among the victime, incidentally, have been Mrs. Winona Clark (co-owner of the Campbell Drugs) and Bud Morser, Campbell building inspector.

—o—

Marvin Moore, 9-year old sports writer for The Press, was our guest at the San Jose State-Fresno State football game on Thanksgiving.

Marvin was torn between two allegiances. He wanted to see San Jose win but, inasmuch as his host was a graduate of Fresno State, he was too much of a little gentleman to allow his support to show to any great extent.

There really wasn't too much opportunity for the Spartan supporters to get unwound either, as Cliff Cassiday, former San Jose State student, will testify.

We picked up a buck from Cliff on the game but we must admit that it was Cliff's college loyalty and not his judgment that caused the bet to made at the office in the first place.

—o—

While on the subject of football and big games, we must report that Bill Means was beaming broadly this week because of the great victory that Cal scored over Stanford last Saturday. Bill, a strong Bear alumni, didn't have too much to beam about during the season.

But the way the Bears played in the "big game" made up for a lot of past performances.

Phone Directory Manager Retires

F. H. Silcock, 65, Northern California and Nevada Directory Manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, retires on pension on November 30 after 33 years of service to the organization.

He will be succeeded by Tom G. Edwards, who has been Directory Manager for the company's Oregon area.

Printing and distribution of 35 telephone directores, including the Campbell, San Martin and Saratoga publication, have been under Silcock's charge for the past 15 years.

He noted that during that period it has been necessary to increase his staff from 132 to 756 employees to keep pace with the increase in telephone usage

Silcock joined Pacific Telephone in 1923 as Commercial Engineer. He assumed his present post in 1941.

Now that the oratory is finished, campaign banners down and millions of dollars invested in campaign funds have depreciated over night into worthless piles of paper and long forgotten speeches, the American people can settle back to normalcy. Some will welcome the chance to view their favorite television programs without interruption. Some are just glad it's all over.

Not so with professional politicians. Almost immediately the job of recapping the election returns and planning for the future will begin.

As a Republican I can't help but consider the future of my party. To speak bluntly, it appears to me that on November 6 President Eisenhower won an election but the Republican Party lost. For the first time in history a victorious President did not carry both Houses of Congress with him. Republican candidates all over the Nation ran far behind their popular President.

Without a popular incumbent at the head of the ticket four years from now, Republicans will do well to look to the job of revitalizing their party immediately.

I personally believe that the Republican Party must face the fact that the American people want the progressive form of government as advocated by President Eisenhower. Only by a clear cut acceptance of these principles can the Republican Party expect to go ahead.

Furthermore, we need more youth and color. We need more candidates with a "down to earth" approach in their campaigning. Only with such candidates can we overcome the stigma of the "party of privilege" moniker which has been attached to the GOP.

Accordingly I have made suggestions to President Eisenhower for the formation of a permanent youth group. Only by cultivating new blood with new and progressive ideas can we Republicans fulfill the destiny which was shaped for us on November 6.

The average production of milk per cow in California in 1955 was 47 per cent above the national average.

Six Campbell High Swimmers Take Honors In National Meets

Six Campbell High School students swam their way into the AAU hall of fame this summer, when they established themselves as six of the best swimmers in the United States.

The results of the Amateur Athletic Union's swim meets this summer were just recently published, giving the names of the top swimmers in the nation in their respective age groups. Six of these names came from Campbell; Rosalind Skold, Steve Skold, Jim Mitchell, Mike Scroggins, Dave Andre and John Duncan.

Rosalind Skold, who is a freshman, swam in a 200 yard medley relay team which took first place and set a new record. The same relay team took second in the same event. Rosalind also placed fifth in the 100 yard backstroke, and another of her relay teams placed fifth in the 200 yard freestyle relay.

Rosalind's big brother, Steve, took first place in each of the following events; 100 meter freestyle, 100 yard free style, 200 meter freestyle, 200 yard freestyle, and the 160 yard individual medley. In each events Steve broke the previous record. He also placed second in the 100 meter butterfly, third in the 200 meter individual medley, and fourth in the 100 yard butterfly.

Also taking top honors were two relay teams. One consisting of Jim Mitchell, Mike Scroggins, Steve Skold and Dave Andre took third place in the 200 meter medley relay. A team consisting of Mitchell, Scroggins, Skold and John Duncan took fourth place in the 400 yard medley relay.

Results of swim meets all over the United States were compiled by the AAU and only the five fastest times in each event were published.

'National League' And 'South' Win Football Jamboree

The "National League" topped the "American League" 40 to 26, and the "South" routed the "North" 36 to 7, in the Campbell Union Grammar School 1956 "Football Jamboree" played Monday, November 19, at Campbell Grammar School.

The "National League" was composed of teams from the following schools: Cherry Lane, San Tomas, Moorpark and Hamilton. Top scoring teams were Monroe Blue—26, Cherry Lane—21, and Hamilton "49'ers—13.

"South" teams were from Dover, Cherry Lane, San Tomas, Quito and Hamilton schools. Top scorers were, Dover—18, Cherry Lane-12 and the Cypress "Rams"—7.

Nine schools in the Elementary school district participated in the touch football game. Each team played one quarter against the school of the opposing league.

All participants received ribbons awarded by the Campbell Kiwanis Club. The Club sponsored the jamboree in conjunction with the school district.

Joe Stein, physical education consultant for the district reported that a basketball jamboree is to replace the football jamboree in the school year of 1957-58. Basketball will then be alternated with football in succeeding years.

Stanford 18—California 20

The California Bears beat the Stanford Indians in a tightly fough battle. Many of my predictions this week were wrong—but this was a tough one to lose.

San Jose State vs Fresno State

I attended this game with a strong Fresno State fan so for his sake I was glad to see Fresno win. San Jose was really out-classed by the strong running team of Fresno. Final score Fresno 30, San Jose 14.

49'ers Tie Philadelphia

The San Francisco 49'ers were leading in the first quarter 7-0 when Arden Burk, one of the best kickers in the National League, kicked a field goal and made it 7-3. The 49'ers then kicked a field goal and made it 10-3. Philadelphia got one more touchdown to tie the game.

Campbell High Smothers Los Gatos In Traditional Turkey Day Classic

By Richard Ferguson

Campbell's block busting Buccaneers ended their football season Thanksgiving Day by soundly trouncing Los Gatos by a score of 38-6. By the win Campbell's position in the SCVAL was boosted from fifth to fourth place behind Fremont. Los Gatos shares the basement with Washington as a result of the traditional battle with Campbell. The Bucs have taken the last five games from Los Gatos in the oldest rivalry in Santa Clara county.

The game started slow with Campbell coming through for only one TD in the first canto. Los Gatos received the opening kickoff but failed to penetrate farther than the 50-yard line as the Buc line dug in. Campbell started their touchdown drive from the Buc's 20 yard line. Jim Corbus rolled out around right end and jump passed a spiral to Cal Vargus on the 35 with Vargus streaking to the 35 of Los Gatos before being brought down. Several line plunges later Corbus pushed the pigskin into the end zone for the only score of the quarter.

Seniors Do O. K.

The seniors on the Campbell squad proved that they were out to win this game by not letting the Wildcats penetrate any farther than their 49 yard line. The end of the quarter saw the Bucs with a scant 6 point lead and gave no indication of what was to come.

Los Gatos came back in the early minutes of the second quarter to tie the score at 6-6. Right half Joe Spiteri did the honors from the seven yard line. Fired up by Los Gatos scoring, the Bucs came back to show the Wildcats the short way home. Ken Buran charged up the middle of the line for 30 yards to start the Bucs on a touchdown drive which he finished off himself with a 3 yard plunge to score.

Half-Time Score 19-6

With two minutes left in the second quarter Los Gatos was forcer to kick from deep in its own territory. Bud Scribner took the ball on his own 20 yard line and dodged the rushing Wildcat tacklers to place the ball down on the Los Gatos 40 yard line. Corbus again hit Vargus for a 23 yard gain and with four seconds left in the half Ken Buran added his second touchdown of the quarter to Campbell's increasing lead. The quarter ended with the score 19-6 with the Bucs on top.

Campbell's second string saw quite a bit of action in the second half holding the Wildcats scoreless while they engineered two touchdowns. Corbus uncorked a 20 yard pass to end Frank Koontz who ran the pigskin to the Wildcat's 10 yard line before dropping to the Wildcat defense. Dave Alvarez split the center of the line to score untouched capping a 55 yard drive. With seven minutes left in the quarter Vargus added another score for Campbell on a one yard plunge.

Los Gatos penetrated to the Buc 4 yard line before they were stopped by the staunch Campbell line. With Jim Keech at the helm the Bucs began a late third quarter drive which they carried into the fourth quarter with Keech pitching out to Scribner for the final tally of the game.

Third String Plays

The final minutes were played by the Campbell third string playing like veterans. Their spirit and fight showed an indication of what was to come for Campbell in the future. Seniors playing their last game could be pleased with their fine showing against Los Gatos.

The entire first eleven will be lost through graduation.

Scoring by quarters:

Campbell	6	13	12	7	38
Los Gatos	0	6	0	0	6

Tounchdowns: Buran 2, Vargus 1, Corbus 1, Alvarez 1, Scribner 1
Los Gatos: Spiteri 1.

BREAKS LEG . . . Ken Buran, fullback on the Campbell High School football team, suffered a broken leg in the final game of the year on Thanksgiving Day when Los Gatos was defeated 38 to 6 in the traditional Turkey Day classic. Ken, whose leg was broken in the fourth period, had the satisfaction, however, of racking up two touchdowns in the game. Bill Means, Campbell druggist, who has acted as trainer for the Bucs for 11 years, reports that this is the first broken leg suffered by any Campbell High gridder in local history.

Harvev Alford, 74 Last Rites Held

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday for Harvey L. Alford, 75, a retired Pentacostal minister, who passed away November 20 after a prolonged illness. His home was at 323 Grant St. in Campbell.

A native of Arkansas, he had lived in Oklahoma most of his life before coming to this area in 1936. He was a former Pentacostal minister at Alviso.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Vera Sciortino of Campbell, and Mrs. Ophelia Daugherty of Oklahoma, also six sons, Cal, Horace and Louis Alford, and his stepson, Henry Tanksley, all of Campbell, also Francis Alford of Arizona and Jimmy Alford of Oklahoma.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Williamson of Hanford and Mrs. Alice Coplin of Texarkana, Arkansas, besides a brother, Horace Alford of Chicago.

He also leaves 22 granchildren and 20 great grandchilden.

Services were conducted from Campbell Memorial Chapel at 1 p.m. last Saturday, with interment following at Santa Clara City Cemetery.

Local Man Loses In West Valley Hospital Vote

Richard Ryan, 1907 E. Ridgeley Drive, Campbell, incumbent director of the West Valley Hospital District, was unseated in the light balloting that marked the election of three directors last week.

Ryan had maintained that the entire West Valley hospital district should be reviewed and that the board should wait until the people had indicated that they want a hospital before attempting to float another bond issue. Twice the voters in the district have turned down bond proposals that would have enabled a hospital to be constructed on the site owned by the district near Vasona Junction.

Ryan also favored "fringe areas", such as certain parts of Campbell to withdraw before presenting a bond.

Ryan's stand, however, apparently was not favored in other areas of the district. With a turnout of only 1800 of an approximately 30,000 eligible, he trailed the field of four (three to be elected) with 730 votes.

Elected were Jonathan Baker, Cambrian Park, 1086; Wendell P. Hammon, Saratoga, 1052, and the Rev. C. James Miller, Los Gatos, 1050. Directors' terms are four years.

The three new directors have urged immediate steps toward securing a hospital, although not agreeing as to the financing.

AVOID HARD STARTS

Anyone planning to drive up to the mountain winter sports areas during the winter months should have the car battery checked before leaving. A battery that operates normally in mild weather may fail completely in freezing temperatures, says the California State Automobile Association. Save yourself trouble and inconvenience by having your battery checked BEFORE you leave.

New P. E. Building Dedicated at San Jose State

A half-million-dollar addition to the Men's Physical Education Building at San Jose State College will be dedicated at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, December 5 when ceremonies are held in one of the new gymnasiums.

The dedicatory address will be made by Dr. Dale P. Wren, administrative assistant to Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction. He is a 1946 graduate of San Jose State College with advanced degrees from Stanford University.

The program will include four selections by the Choraliers, directed by William J. Erlendson, associate professor of music. Invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Henry J. Croes, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church of San Jose.

The recently-completed building includes eleven offices, a large classroom, a conference room, a large locker room, and two gymnasiums on the second floor with collapsible bleachers to seat 250.

Tours of the new building and of the remodeled old gymnasium will be available following the dedicatory ceremonies.

European Cities Have Fast Mail, Digest Reports

While Europe may lag behind America in technology, Europeans enjoy faster mail service and some public services that would be welcome on this side of the Atlantic, reports Robert Bendiner in a December Reader's Digest article, "What Europeans Can Teach Us About Public Services," condensed from Collier's.

Living in Huntington, Long Island, on the fringe of New York's metropolitan area, Bendiner regards it as normal for a letter from the city to reach him in two days.

"In London, by dizzying contrast," reports the writer, "a housewife can mail her grocery order before ten in the morning and have her groceries delivered in time for dinner that evening. Both London and Paris take for granted three punctual deliveries a day.

"A Parisian can get a letter to anyone in the French capital and its environs in an hour or two by dropping it in a special slot for pneumatic-tube mail at the nearest post office . . . Almost everywhere from Glasgow to Moscow a letter will go by the fastest method available at the moment, whether it carries airmail postage or not."

European telephone systems offer many services. In Paris, you have only to dial INF-1 (information) to catch a recording of the most recent news bulletins, which are freshened every two hours. In Amsterdam, a recorded voice will list the films showing at movie theaters along with the comment of local critics.

In Vienna, telephone service supplies stock quotations, recipes, bedtime stories for children, practice dictation for secretarial students, even perfect pitch A for the tuning of musical instruments.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

Reminders

1. Plant these cold weather vegetables now—Cabbage, Cauliflower, Brussel Sprouts, Onions, Beets, Carrots, Turnips and Swiss Chard.

2. The Calendula or "Pot Marigold" is one of the best bedding plants for the winter months.

3. Hurry to plant spring flowering bulbs. Best results are obtained if these bulbs are planted before December.

4. You can prune many ornamental shrubs now. If you are not sure how to go about it, your nurseryman can supply you with a pruning manual.

5. The Melanthera Heather is one of the most colorful of winter flowering shrubs. Heather can be planted at this time.

Camellias by the Climate

Although there is an ideal climate for growing the Camellia, recent studies reveal that many Camellia hybrids and varieties can be successfully grown in a number of climates ranging from coastal fogs to inland heat.

The results of these studies are of great worth to the general gardening public, the California Association of Nurserymen believes, because it clarifies the question of just which varieties of Camellias should be grown in the hot valleys of the state and which in the cool coastal sections. In conducting these studies, the Cultural Experimentation Committee of the Northern California Camellia Society took into consideration the sun tolerance of the varieties; Camellias that are sun tolerant in a coastal situation will need partial shade inland. In all cases, Camellias which did well on the coast were found to be suitable for the higher temperatures of the upper interior valleys of the state.

For coastal climates, the Camellias recommended by the participating amateur and professional Camellia growers included Alba Plena, C. M. Wilson, Dr. Tinsley, Kumasaka, Lady Clare (Grandiflora Rosea), Te Deum, Elegans and Daikagura, among others.

The findings of this committee of the Camellia society are one more aid to your local nurseryman in helping you make the correct selections of Camellia varieties for your locale. By choosing the varieties best suited for the climate and following the basic cultural requirements—perfect drainage, constant moistness, loose, acid-type soil, shallow planting and protection of shade and shelter—the average California gardener should have good success in his Camellia gardening ventures.

Southern Indica Azaleas

Southern Indica Azaleas (southern India azaleas) are new and spectacular members of the Azalea family—beautiful and hardy. They were developed in the Deep South of the United States, and may also be successfully grown in California, even where temperatures reach as low as 15°.

The Indicas (actually misnamed because they are not native to India) are evergreen and are fast growing, mostly in singles. Mediums are from three to five feet, dense and late blooming; tall varieties reach over five feet and are fast growing in an open manner with earlier blooms.

Among the best known Southern Indica varieties are Pride of Mobile, Phoenicia and Fielders' White. These new varieties are gaining popularity in the West, and while not in stock at all local nurseries, may be obtained for you.

Azaleas of the Southern Indica group grow successfully in the garden in natural bloom when properly established, and make particularly fine subjects for force blooming.

Plant Azaleas in light soil, states the California Association of Nurserymen, for the roots of this plant are delicate, like fine threads. The Southern Indicas, as do all evergreen Azaleas, thrive on peat. A planting mixture of peat, leaf mold, garden loam and sand is a good one. Water regularly during the growing season and in hot weather overhead watering is recommended. Feed Azaleas with an acid fertilizer after the blooming season. Prune in the spring before June and pinch to direct growth by July.

The Southern Indica Azaleas are among the loveliest of flowering evergreen ornamentals. During December, nurseries will have a new stock of many varieties and hybrids. Stop by your nurseryman's for several plants soon.

Early Camellia Japonica

While fall and winter months in other climates mean frosty and freezing weather, in California the end of the year heralds the beginning of the Camellia Japonica bloom.

C. M. Wilson is one of the most sought after Camellia varieties and as a mid-season bloomer it brings its beautiful soft pink blooms into the garden in October and November.

For tub planting, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends Choyo-No-Nishiki, a brilliant Camellia of pink, striped vivid red. It is medium in size with semi-double blossom forms.

Shades of red blooms are produced early by Arajishi and Shangri-La. Arajishi is deep cardinal red, its flowers double and high centered. It's one of the earliest to bloom—late September and on. Shangri-La bears its striking crimson peony type flowers throughout most of the Camellia season and it is also delightfully fragrant.

Camellias, though aristocrats of the garden, are very soil and climate tolerant flowers. They will grow well in the southern and northern areas of the state, along the entire coast and in the interior valleys. There are certain basic garden requirements to meet in growing Camellias, nonetheless. Give Camellias an acid soil; plant in a mixture of peat moss, oak leaves, rotted manure and topsoil if your garden soil is alkaline. Provide perfect drainage, mulch with peat or compost, feed with acid reaction fertilizers and keep the soil moist. Protect from the hot sun by planting under branching trees, a lath cover or on the east or north side of the house.

LUCKY DUCK!—These may be tough times for turkeys, but Barnaby the duck seems to feel pretty secure as the favorite pet at Hanna Boys' Center, Sonoma home for underprivileged boys. Laughing here at Barnaby's smug smile are two young residents of the California "boys' town."

College Celebrates 100th Year Amidst Build-Up Program

San Jose State College's Centennial Year finds the College in the midst of a huge building program, $29 million worth of construction proposed for the next five years.

The College's expansion began with the construction of a one half million dollar addition to the woman's gymnasium, a million dollar music building, a million dollar engineering building, and a speech and drama building costing $1,262,000.

This year will see dedication of the recently completed addition to the men's gymnasium and the new "modular" library. Also, the natural science building addition is nearing completion. Scheduled to open in the fall of 1957 is a new three-story classroom building and a new administration building.

Originating in San Francisco in 1857 as Minn's Evening Normal School, the College became a state institution in 1862. Nine years later it was moved to its present campus in the heart of downtown San Jose.

Until recently the school was primarily a teacher-training institution. It pioneered in such fields as teacher placement services, institute study, kindergarten training, and a summer session for teachers.

Since the 1880's the College has introduced vocational training in such fields as industrial arts, engineering, nursing, journalism and occupational therapy. The first college police training in the country was offered in 1930.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist has been College president since 1952. Under his leadership the school has been raising its academic standards.

The Centennial theme, "Pioneers for 100 Years" is being carried out in all special Centennial events. The Centennial Festival will open on Founder's Day, May 2, 1957, with the President's convocation. A recognition dinner will be held May 7, and a barbecue May 8, followed by a symposium on "One Hundred Years of Education" on the evening of May 9.

Open house and exhibits are scheduled May 9 through 11. The Centennial Ball is May 10. The all-day Alumni Homecoming on May 11 will bring the Festival to a close.

Bank Mails Out 335 Yule Checks

The Campbell Office of the American Trust Company has mailed out 335 Christmas savings account checks totaling $57,960 it was announced this week by J, Payne, manager.

The figures for this year show an increase of 16 percent in number of accounts and a gain of 21 percent in dollar amount. The figures, according to Payne, represent gains of 7 percent in number of accounts and 17 percent in dollar volume over last year—which was a record year.

The Bank's 96 offices in 15 Northern California counties have distributed 61,500 Christmas savings account checks this year for a total amount of nearly ten and one quarter million dollars.

Campbell Choir Will Sing Again In Choir Festival

The Campbell High a cappella Choir is again honored with invitation to take part in the Annual a cappella Choir Festival. This will be the 23rd Choir Festival taking place at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Dec. 7, at 8:00 p.m.

The festival is sponsored by the San Jose Unified School District and it is limited to ten high schools in the Santa Clara Valley.

The guest conductor will be Cece Enlow from the Oakland Junior College. He will direct the massed choral selections. James Snyder of Oakland will act as guest critic.

Campbell has always taken part in this county-wide festival and is noted for its excellence. The choir numbers 80 members this year and makes an impressive appearance with their blue gowns and silver stoles. Frank Triena says that he expects the Campbell Choir to make its usual high-standard performance.

There will be over 600 voices in the massed choir, and over 3000 people will gather in the Civic Auditorium to hear the choral music.

The other high schools participating are James Lick, Fremont, Salinas, San Jose, Willow Glen, Abraham Lincoln, Santa Clara, Los Gatos, and Mt. View.

The performance will begin promptly at 8 p.m. and it is open to the public without charge.

Red '57 Sticker To Replace Tabs On Auto Licenses

The traditional metal tab issued for automobile registration renewal will be replaced by a refrectorized '57 sticker which will be attached to the rear license plate to validate 1957 registration, the State Department of Motor Vehicles announced this week.

The new stickers are said to be easier to attach than the tab and will add a new visibility point to the rear of the car at night because they reflect light.

They cannot be removed from a license plate without being destroyed or mutilated, thus adding a protection against theft or fraud, or illegal transfer.

Other than this change, procedures will be the same as in past years. Pre-punched cards, stating fees for the new year, will be mailed to all registered vehicle owners immediately after Christmas, according to the Department.

Registration cards will be validated, and stickers obtained, upon application at Department field offices, temporary stations in banks, authorized auto clubs, by mail and from traveling registration crews.

The renewal period dates are from January 2 through to February 4 of next year.

The sailing ship Balclutha, at Pier 43 in San Francisco, was built in Scotland in 1886.

Try this really delicious, really different Cranberry Coffee Cake. You'll enjoy it! And invite neighbors to share it with you at coffee-time. They'll love it, too.

BOY SCOUTS at La Grange, Ill., got more than they bargained for when they staged a civil defense mass feeding demonstration in connection with a pet parade to show how the homeless could be fed in the event of an enemy attack. With limited equipment, they served 5,000 meals at a cost of only 21 cents each. The horse got a handout, but fortunately for the Scouts, 4,999 of the meals were for humans, who got along on hot dogs, beans, rolls, doughnuts and coffee.

Parking Lights Not for Driving, Says CHP Chief

Parking lights are not to be used as driving lights at any time on any public highway, was the warning issued recently by the California Highway Patrol.

"The law expressly prohibits the use of parking lights "as driving lights," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "The only time the use of parking lights is legal is when they are used as signal lamps in accordance with the vehicle code or as regular parking lights.

"The use of parking lights when driving at dusk, in fog or in rain tends to create a deception in the judgment of distance by the other driver," Caldwell contiued. "The use of headlights giving a truer picture and aids the other driver in determining distance thus making for more safety for all.

Obey the law and develop the habit of turning on the headlights, not the parking lights, when lights

LAW IN ACTION

SETTLEMENTS AND JUDGMENTS

Under the Canons of Ethics lawyers and judges try to get people to make a fair settlement of their cases out of court. Both sides gain and the court saves time, the taxpayer money. So for every case that goes to trial, scores never reach the court room.

But when settlement fails, cases do go to trial, and somebody wins and somebody loses. In its "judgment" the court decides the rights and duties of each side.

1. "Judgment-creditors" have the state's backing to collect their due.

Our law goes a long way to help the judgment-creditor. Our financial responsibility law, for example, calls for drivers and owners to be able to put up money or show insurance coverage to meet possible judgments up to a certain amount for damages or injuries in highway accidents.

2. But the law also puts certain property of the judgment-debtor or his family, beyond the reach of the court through orders, writs, attachments, etc. For example:

Homesteads (up to $12,500 for the family head, $5,000 for others;) "necessary" furniture, clothings, food;

Work and professional tools—certain farming equipment and two horses (but no race horses), a sailor's nautical instruments, a lawyer's books, a surgeon's instruments, a fisherman's boat and net ($500);

The debtors' house trailer worth up to $2500 if he lives in it, and half his earnings where necessary for him or his family for work done within 30 days before the levy of attachment and other things.

The law tries to protect the debtor and yet to enforce the creditor's rights. In the main, its policy seeks to collect just debts but not take away a man's means of getting back on his feet.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.
